

The widening of the Port Mann Bridge using the "split deck and slide" system was the first method considered.